Nearly two weeks have elapsed since a case of poliomyelitis has developed in Barre and with only three cases recorded, the situation remained unchanged to-day. The three children who contracted the disease some time ago are making progress toward recovery and the authorities see much to encourage their belief that the prompt and for the most part well supported quarantine will have the effect of preventing an epidemic. The Farwell street case, which has been under observation for the past few days, has developed no more unfavorable symptoms and while a final diagnosis has not been made by Dr. Taylor as yet, there are indications that the case may not be poliomyelitis after all.

For the theft of a sum of money from his employer, Harold Antoinetti, a 16-year-old Calais lad, was sentenced in Magistrate H. W. Scott's court Thursday afternoon to serve the remainder of his minority in the state industrial school at Vergennes. Antoinetti was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Henry Lawson yesterday forenoon on a complaint made to State's Atty. Earle R. Davis. When arraigned before the magistrate, a charge of petit larceny was preferred, to which the respondent entered a plea of guilty.

It was represented by the authorities that Antoinetti imposed upon the confidence placed in him by his employer, G. W. Scott, a Calais farmer, by stealing the sum of $32. The boy was placed in the custody of the deputy sheriff and will be transferred to the school within a few days.
